

MEET YOUR INSTRUCTOR

Course: A Stroke of Genealogy: Searching U.S. Census Bureau Records

NOEMI MENDEZ

Noemi Mendez is a Data Dissemination Specialist at the US Census Bureau. She is responsible for training the public on how to access and use census data. She specializes in working with GIS users, grant writers, higher education and businesses. Noemi is an Instructional Designer for Census Academy where she develops learning content and collaborates with content contributors within and outside the Census Bureau. She is also a lecturer at the Johns Hopkins Krieger School of Arts and Sciences Advanced Academic Programs. She attended Syracuse University and CUNY Hunter College. Noemi is a recipient of the US Department of Commerce Bronze Medal for her work in Census Academy.

